The Astraeus Collection

The British Fine Jewellery Designer launches the critically acclaimed Astraeus Collection under her new brand Raliegth Goss;

Astraeus, The dynamic and audacious pieces in the Astraeus Collection take their name from the greek god of the stars.

The meticulously crafted Astraeus collection combines clusters of white and yellow diamonds with sweeping branches of 18k white gold that mimic the movement of the stars. Yellow diamonds, reminiscent of the luminaries themselves, blend seamlessly with pave white diamonds gradually turning into intense yellow.

A limited Edition Collection of 20 pieces of each design has been created in 18ct yellow gold with white and pastel coloured diamond clusters. In the Astraeus Limited Edition pieces, white pave diamonds blend with pink diamonds gradually turning into an intense pink hue.

The Astraeus rings range from fine and graceful introductory pieces to more elaborate designs that are a touch more intricate and bold. Some of the Astraeus rings can be stacked together on the finger to suit the desired style being either quirky chic or show stopping pieces. Astraeus is a coloured diamond collection that has been designed by Raliegth Goss at the young age of 25 and has received critical acclaim from titles such as The Financial Times Gift Guide, Telegraph Luxury, Vanity Fair and Tatler amongst others. Astraeus has been worn by a number of celebrities including a particular fan of the jewellery, Ellie Goulding.
